Huntington Vacuum Products Conflict Minerals & Conflict Mining Policy

“Conflict Minerals” and “Conflict Mining” refer to the illegal control and extraction of minerals from within the DRC (Democratic Republic of Congo). Huntington Vacuum Products may use certain metals in the manufacturing of our products.

By company policy, we require that suppliers identify products in their supply chain that contain conflict Minerals, validate and report to HVP the country of origin of these minerals via the CMRT reporting template: <http://www.responsiblemineralsinitiative.org/reporting-templates/cmrt/>. Per this policy, we do not use materials known to be sourced from the DRC.

As defined in 2010 United States legislation, Dodd-Frank Wall Street Reform and Consumer Protection Act, Section 1502(e)(4):

CONFLICT MINERAL - The term “conflict mineral” means:

(A) columbite-tantalite (coltan), cassiterite, gold, wolframite, or their derivatives; or

(B) any other mineral or its derivatives determined by the Secretary of State to be financing conflict in the Democratic Republic of the Congo or an adjoining country.
